BeWare Couture Witch's Hat

STEP 1: Remove the base of the christmas tree, using a sharp pair of scissors or utility knife, so you are left with an open cone shape.

STEP 2: Next draw a 11 3/4" circle (the brim) on the chipboard sheet and then cut it out. Draw a circle in the center of the brim about 4" wide. Tip: Make sure the hole you cut in the brim is small enough for the cone to sit on top of, and not so big that the cone falls through.

STEP 3: Cover both sides of the brim with patterned paper. Then use a sewing machine or hand stitch around the edge with some orange thread or embroidery floss. Gently turn up the brim to give the hat a little character. Tip: if you have a hard time curling up the brim, try brushing a little ModPodge or similar glue, on the brim first then shape it. You can use pins or tie the brim to hold it's shape. When the glue dries it should be set to the shape you want.

STEP 4: Next bend the cone to the desired shape, as with the brim, you can use ModPodge to help the cone keep the shape. When dry, begin covering it with patterned paper. You will need two sheets to cover the entire cone.

STEP 5: Using the scallop border punch cut 3 to 4, 12" border strips out of patterned paper. Use a contrasting thread to stitch along each border. Use these borders to hide your seams and embellish the hat.

STEP 6: Glue the cone to the brim to form the hat.

STEP 7: To create the layered ribbon use the Horizon patterned paper for the first layer. Use the diamond shape to help cut out the zig-zag border along the top. For the second layer use a scalloped border punch to finish the edges of the ribbon. The third layer is the large scallop edge of the Horizon patterned paper. Pleat, crease and fold each ribbon to give a distressed feel, then adhere each layer to the hat.

STEP 8: Make one one more strip to fit around the base, where the cone and brim meet. This time tear the edges, to distress. Fold the strip accordion style, then glue into place.

STEP 9: To make the rosette, punch out more scalloped borders with the border punch, pleat the borders then attach to the "Happy Halloween" punch-out that has been mounted to a piece of chipboard. Adhere the rosette to the front of the hat.

STEP 10: Take the "BeWare" punch-out and use the the alphabet stickers to spell out "couture".

STEP 11: Then use the computer and printer to type out; What all the best dressed witches are wearing this season!!! (Your print size is approx. 2" x 3") Print the text out on patterned paper then glue it to the backside of the tag. Trim away the excess patterned paper. Use rub-ons to complete the tag.

STEP 12: Poke a small hole in the tip of the hat, then punch a small hole in the finished tag. Use some twine to attach the tag to the hat.

STEP 13: Lastly, embellish the hat with a piece of berry garland which can be glue or hand stitched into place. Tip: The garland I used was originally gold, so I used acrylic paints to paint the stem and berries first, then I added a little glue and glitter to some of the berries.
